Celebrating Easter with New and Exciting Surprises at Ngong Ping 360

(Hong Kong, 2 April 2010) Ngong Ping 360 is introducing a series of exciting and fun-filled activities during the Easter holidays to provide visitors with an unforgettable traveling experience.

Ngong Ping 360 is teaming up with Xbox360 for the first time to introduce an Xbox360 videogame station, giving both casual and serious gamers alike the chance to test their skills. In addition, visitors with same day cable car tickets can participate in the "Forza Motorsport 3" tournament, with the chance to win an Xbox360 game console or a videogame which will be given out each day. The videogame station will be open from today until 2 May.

"Ngong Ping 360 is a big draw for both local Hong Kong residents and tourists alike, especially during holidays such as Easter," said Ngong Ping 360 Managing Director Mr Y T Li. "Even so, we are always on the lookout to create even more value for our passengers and bring new levels of excitement to the journey. Teaming up with Xbox360, one of the world's most popular gaming consoles, is a natural fit."

Apart from the Xbox360 videogame station, Ngong Ping 360 is pleased to present the "Sky Ride and Game Pass", a joint promotion with Hong Kong International Airport.

Starting from today, visitors can enjoy a fun day out on Lantau Island including a return cable car journey, Aviation Discovery Centre and 4D movie in Terminal 2, plus a selected meal set and a HK$60 shopping cash coupon for just HK$169 for adults and HK$123 for children.

Ngong Ping 360 has also joined hands with several different partners to create special promotions for visitors. Details may be found in the appendix.
