Aarif Rahman and Janice Man officiate the “Snowy Chocolate Christmas” Kick-off Ceremony at Ngong Ping 360

(Hong Kong, 8 December 2011) Today is full of yuletide cheers as Ngong Ping 360 launched “Snowy Chocolate Christmas”, a sweet winter wonderland with creative and tasteful chocolates all around, and soft snowfall in the Ngong Ping Village. Mr Wilson Shao, Managing Director of Ngong Ping 360 and special guests, Mr Aarif Rahman and Miss Janice Man joined hands to kick-off the “Snowy Chocolate Christmas” at the tourist attraction.

Ngong Ping Village was turned into an amazing chocolaty winterland with themed decoration, soft snowfall, Christmas carols, free tasting of running chocolate fountain and the opportunities to learn to create your own Christmas chocolate pieces.

Managing Director of Ngong Ping 360 Mr Wilson Shao said, “Every year, Ngong Ping 360 is looking for new and exciting ways to engage guests from Hong Kong and all over the world with outstanding entertainment and promotions. We would like to see our guests enjoying their journey every time they visit Ngong Ping 360. Through this year's unique ‘Snowy Chocolate Christmas’, we hope to bring a very special Christmas to our guests. As chocolate is our theme for this year's Christmas, we have arranged free Belgian chocolate tasting and opportunities for guests to learn making Christmas chocolate for their loved ones, making Ngong Ping 360 completely immersed in the spirit of the season.”

“The celebration continues with ‘Children and Elderly’ Winter Special promotions, Hong Kong residents aged below 12 or 65 and above can enjoy a free cable car round-trip journey on Standard Cabin in the month of December. This made Ngong Ping 360 an ideal destination for three-generation family outings.” added Mr Shao.

Celebrity Mr Aarif Rahman, special guest at the kick-off ceremony was deeply impressed by the Crystal Cabin journey, “The Crystal Cabin is a unique and fun way to appreciate the spectacular natural environment at Ngong Ping 360. The numerous food & beverage options, diverse shopping, dining and entertainment activities offered at Ngong Ping Village, appeal to all ages. I’ll definitely recommend it as Christmas destination to my friends & families!”

Celebrity Miss Janice Man, also a special guest at the kick-off ceremony said, "The glittering soft snow falling on the giant chocolate house made Ngong Ping Village become a fantastic venue for photo moments. Richly filled with sweet and warm scent of chocolate, Ngong Ping 360 is the best place for couples to celebrate their Christmas."

The kick-off ceremony was held in front of the giant pop-up chocolate houses at Ngong Ping Village. Special guests Mr Aarif Rahman and Miss Janice Man first appeared to join the Christmas Flash Mob performed by Theatre Noir. Then followed by the door-opening ceremony with officiating guests Ngong Ping 360 Managing Director Mr Wilson Shao, Mr Aarif Rahman, Miss Janice Man, Hong Kong Authorised Reseller of Leonidas Mr Raymond Wong and Thomas Trillion's renowned pastry chef Mr Thomas Lui, using the giant gingerbread man keys to open the doors of the pop-up chocolate houses which signified the start of the soft snowfall at Ngong Ping Village.

The Holidays fanfare runs from 8 December 2011 through 2 January 2012, offering guests incredible entertainment for the season at Ngong Ping 360.
